JOINT PETITION: STOP THE CUTS

Learning disability is one of the most common forms of disability in the UK. It is also the least understood. A learning disability is not an illness. It is a permanent condition that affects someone's ability to learn and understand new things.

A learning disability does not prevent someone from learning and achieving a lot in life, if they have the right support.

This petition is about making sure they get that support.

Too many people with a learning disability are deprived of the support they need to have a decent quality of life and do things other people take for granted.

We (the undersigned) call on the Government to make sure there is enough money getting through the system to honour the promises it has made for more choice and control for the 1.5 million people affected.
